Sexual assaults target MMHS girls walking to school

By Bari Vaz
From the Mira Mesa News

Fox 5 is reporting that a 14-year-old girl was sexually assaulted on Thursday morning (11/30/17) while walking to Mira Mesa High School. According to SDPD, the attack occurred at approximately 6: 30 a.m. in the 8800 block of Flanders Drive. The assailant came up behind the girl and began speaking to her, at which time he assaulted her and ran off through the nearby Mesa Village condominium complex.

Police describe the suspect as a dark complected Latino man, approximately 5 feet 7 inches tall, 35 to 40 years old, with an average build and short, dark hair, who spoke with a Spanish accent.

The attacker's description and method of attack is very similar to a recent case where a 15-year-old girl was sexually battered while walking from her home to Mira Mesa HighSchool along Hillery Drive. In that case, the man also walked up behind the girl and spoke with her before assaulting her. That attack occurred at around 6:35 am on Thursday, October 12, and in that case the suspect also escaped through the Mesa Village condominiums.

The suspect in that case was described as a Latino man, approximately 42 years of age, 5 feet 2 inches tall with short, dark hair. He was wearing a light blue, short sleeved shirt and baggy blue

the mosaic — President's Message

By Ted Brengel
President, Mira Mesa Town Council

Holiday greetings!!! I hope that everyone's Thanksgiving was truly wonderful. And since this is the last issue of the MMTC Newsletter for the year, let me wish everyone a very merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. Please be very careful during this joyous season because as we all know all too well, there are those who will enjoy themselves a little too much and attempt to operate a motor vehicle. Should you see a car being driven erratically, try to report the sighting, but most of all stay alert.

Chris Cate: City Council District 6

It is undeniable, San Diego's homeless problem is at a crisis level requiring our immediate attention. Since taking office in December 2014, homelessness in our region has increased by nearly 24 percent.

In an effort to continue the discussion and identify long-term solutions, Councilmember Chris Cate of San Diego's 6th District is looking for input from residents. The following survey includes 13 question, and will take approximately 15 minutes to complete.

Your survey responses will be strictly confidential and data from this research will be reported only in the aggregate. Your information will be coded and will remain confidential. If you have questions at any time about the survey or the issue of homelessness, you may contact Ian Clampett at (619) 533-6469 or by email at IClampett@sandiego.gov.

Toni Atkins: Senate District 39

Senator Toni Atkins joined the Mira Mesa Town Council on Monday, November 6th an updated the group on various legislative initiatives.

The current controversy over the gas tax was a large part of the conversation. Sen. Atkins explained how the funds raised by the gas tax have gone to various transportation-related projects, and how the costs of road maintenance are increasing faster than the revenue generated for that purpose.

Sen. Atkins also discussed how revenue raised by Senate Bill 1 will go to helping update community plans throughout the state. This will make it possible for cities like San Diego to move forward with projects needed to increase housing supply, both for market-rate units and those designed to be affordable for low income communities.

Brian Maienschein: Assembly District 77

Assemblymember Brian Maienschein's bill, AB 1137, was signed into law by Governor Brown. The bill will require future housing developments that are financed by the California Department of Housing and Community Development to be pet-friendly, opening up thousands of new housing opportunities for families and their pets.

"Families should not be put in a position in which they must choose between keeping their household pet or keeping a roof over their head," stated Maienschein, "AB 1137 will ensure that individuals have reasonable access to pet-friendly housing."

The law goes into effect January 1, 2018.

Kristin Gaspar: County 3rd Supervisory District

Doing things the same way and getting mediocre results just isn't my style. I recently took part in the Solutions Empowerment Summit. The goal was to explore a new vision for how to address the homelessness crisis.

Solutions for Change addresses poverty and the root causes that led to homelessness. Chris Megison, founder of Solutions for Change, has faced significant pushback and the loss of federal funding for not conforming to the "Housing First" approach. Instead, Solutions for Change requires accountability and sober living which leads to transformation and a life of self-sufficiency.

For me, success is providing people the resources to rebuild their lives. Megison is thriving and forging ahead with bold initiatives that invest in human capital, strengthen families, and empower our neighbors and communities to live well.

Marijuana businesses poised to locate here

Controversy creates an opportunity for community leadership.

By John Horst

With the legalization of recreational marijuana approaching with the new year, communities across San Diego will be faced with challenges posed by new city ordinances allowing marijuana growing and retailing operations. Mira Mesa will likely be the center of much of these struggles due to the large amount of light industrial facilities, mainly in the Miramar area.

As a community this is an opportunity to lead, and we should not pass it up. Here are a few thoughts about what this leadership might look like:

With Mira Mesa's concentration of light industrial zoning, growing operations may seek to locate in the community.

While the matter is not settled at the federal level, at the local level elections have repeatedly shown that voters support legalization. Opposition efforts have centered on reasonable concerns, especially about normalizing marijuana use among young people. Advocates for legalization even recognize that marijuana use by those under 25 may pose risks to proper brain development. Freedom is messy, and liberal democracy will always be hard work. We must persist in this hard work by patiently seeking ways to honor the will of the voters, yet vigorously protect our young people from harm.

At the federal level marijuana remains on "Schedule I" of the Controlled Substances Act. Regardless of where one falls on the matter of legalization at the state and local levels, "Schedule

I'm honored to announce our office is now an official partner with the United States of America Vietnam War Commemoration, a program to properly honor Vietnam-era veterans and their families. As a Commemorative Partner, my office will host events and activities each year to recognize the tremendous sacrifices of Vietnam-era veterans, highlight the contributions made on the home front, and celebrate the advances made in science, technology, medicine, and military research.

Many Vietnam veterans were treated badly or met with indifference after their service. The controversy surrounding U.S. involvement in Vietnam sparked protests and demonstrations that continued long after our service members returned home. Decades later, it is important that we recognize the sacrifice these veterans made for our country. Regardless of our feelings about the Vietnam War, that blame should have never been placed on heroes who served their country.

If you are a veteran or surviving family member of the Vietnam War-era (anyone who served active-duty during November 1, 1955 - May 15, 1975) and want to be included in an upcoming event to honor Vietnam-era veterans, you can sign up to be notified of our next event. Visit the Frequently Asked Questions page for more about the Vietnam War Commemoration and eligibility requirements. Sign up here to be notified of our next event or ceremony.

It's an honor to be part of this new opportunity to give our Vietnam heroes and their families, the overdue recognition they earned through their service. If you have additional questions, please visit our website or call our San Diego office at 858-455-5550.

The Mosaic welcomes news and opinion pieces authored by our elected representatives. Opinion pieces written by residents are welcome, but must have a community "angle" which helps inform readers of the importance of current events and issues to the Mira Mesa community. Articles published here do not reflect the official position or opinion of the Mira Mesa Town Council, its Board of Directors, or any of its members. Submissions may be sent via email to newsletter@miramesatowncouncil.org

president's message

While I am on the subject of driving, let me mention that people in Mira Mesa seem to be somewhat friendlier than others. I notice that when I put on a turn signal to change lanes, usually, here in Mira Mesa, the next car slows to let me in. There are places in San Diego where you can count on the opposite treatment. So right now, I would like to thank those who have made that accommodation for me, and I promise that when I notice a request to change lanes in front of me (in the form of a turn signal), I will happily yield to it. I call this Mira Mesa driving. Please keep up the good work!

Changing the subject to the Recreation Council (which I have recently be elected to sit on). As you have heard, there are problems because certain elements of our City Government, primarily the City Attorney, have decided that the way recreation councils have done business for over 35 years is suddenly illegal and must change. Currently the fees paid for use of community park facilities is divided between the City and community's recreation council. Ms. Elliot wants the City to gather up all those funds currently being held in private recreation council bank accounts and have the City manage them as a single fund at an additional cost to taxpayers of nearly ½ million dollars per year.

At the October 31 meeting of the City Council no decision could be reached, so the idea was referred to the council's Public Safety and Livable Neighborhoods (PS & LN) Committee for discussion at its December 6 meeting. A number of us will be going downtown once again to voice our opinion that there is no need to change the way recreation councils and their funds are managed because there are no problems that have arisen because of this.

One thing that MMTC should focus upon in the coming year is letting people know that we exist. I believe that if you spread the word about MMTC and the opportunity that our meetings give to the community to hear and converse with our elected representatives, that many more people would join. I would like to ask each of you to mention MMTC as often as possible and help us advertise the good things we do. In addition to our meetings, we several very important annual events and projects. Here are a few.

- Volunteer of the Year Nomination and selection
- Volunteer of the Year Dinner
- Mira Mesa Street Fair
- 4th of July Parade
- 4th of July Family Fun Day
- Verne Goodwin Scholarship
- MMTC Website

So, have a very Merry Christmas and a happy New Year and please, above all, arrive in 2019 happy and healthy.

Mira Mesa Town Council to choose Volu

Tom Derr

Tom Derr has been an active volunteer with the Mira Mesa Town Council and other community organizations for many years. He served on the MMTC Board of Directors for two years, and has been chair of the Mira Mesa Maintenance Assessment District Committee for the last 12 years. That committee controls a budget of $800,000 annually that is used to improve and maintain landscaping on major streets such as Mira Mesa Blvd. He is also a member of the Mira Mesa Community Planning Group. Tom moved to Mira Mesa in 1974. He was the owner/operator of Tom's Master Mechanics from 1981 until his retirement in June 2011. Tom joined the Automotive Service Council (ASC) in 1985 and served as treasurer. In 1996, he joined the San Diego Herpetological Society (SDHS), serving as treasurer and vice president for many years. Tom is well known for bringing his snakes to the Mira Mesa Street Fair and other community events. SDHS also brings reptiles to schools, especially those with at-risk kids, to spark their interest in learning. Tom is co-founder of EcoVivarium, a nonprofit living museum for all reptiles, amphibians, and some insects, which recently opened in Escondido. Tom has been a member of San Diego Botanical Garden Foundation for over 11 years and is currently serving as 1st Vice President. He is President of the Exchange Club of San Diego, a chapter of the National Exchange Club, the oldest national service club, whose national project is Child Abuse Prevention. Tom is chair of the Law Enforcement Volunteer of the Year event. Tom has been active for several years with Relay for Life, an annual fundraiser to fight cancer. In the summer, you can find Tom re-homing rattlesnakes to keep them from human harm.

Meegan Neils

An essential part of our schools, particularly elementary schools, are the volunteers who help with a large number of school functions both in and out the classrooms. Meegan is one of those volunteers at Sandburg Elementary School. Meegan is an extraordinary volunteer.

At times it almost seems like she is everywhere all at once. Her efforts to organize other volunteers have been tireless. She has been the driving force behind many activities such as the Running Club, the annual Jog-A-Thon, and sales of Sandburg spirit gear to name a few. She thinks in terms of systems so others aren't overwhelmed at the notion of volunteering. She has successfully organized room parents, room captains, and has divided up major events such as Jog-A-Thon into a multitude of smaller tasks. This both gives others a chance to volunteer and makes the events more enjoyable for the participants.

Meegan gives freely of her time to support events and activities at Sandburg and is always looking to support others in their volunteer roles. Her volunteerism is unconditional and completely unselfish. One incredible attribute that Meegan brings to the table is amazing ability to deflect negativity and maintain momentum for school projects. According to her nominator, Meegan "is perhaps the single most spirited volunteer I have known." Using this trait, she manages to find parents who can help with Sandburg's after-school programs.

Margaret Prouty

…is a very dedicated person and has been a member of the SDPD's Retired Senior Volunteer Patrol since January 2011. She works out of the Mira Mesa Police Storefront under the Northeastern Division. She patrols Mira Mesa and Scripps Ranch and is the "extra eyes and ears" of the sworn officers. She makes YANA (you are not alone) visits to check the welfare of those that cannot leave their homes. She makes bank checks, school checks and makes vacation house checks while people are on vacation. Margaret checks for violators using disabled parking spaces. She also makes Homeland security checks of utility, power, water and sewer pumping stations. Margaret participates in the Mira Mesa Street Fair and other events held in Mira Mesa and Scripps Ranch taking children's fingerprints in case the child becomes lost or taken. She designed and implemented the landscaping at the Storefront. The area has received rave reviews for its beauty and low water maintenance. She has tagged all the plants with the names. The garden is such a joy to sit and meditate and watch the butterflies and birds that it attracts. Under the tutelage of Margaret, the Mira Mesa Garden Club has become an integral component of the Mira Mesa Senior Center. Her hard work and enthusiasm have created a most unusual club. She has created garden towers that have a variety of decorative and edible plants. She and the club also maintain the roses and other plants around the outside of the building. When it came to her attention that the Veteran's Memorial was in need of help, Margaret went on a mission. She rounded up volunteers and planted 50 rose bushes around the circle. She next solicited funds from the Mira Mesa Recreation Council to repair the wall, the plaques, the flagpole and the lighting. She then oversaw all the work to complete the project. Margaret is truly a force of nature and a great asset to the community.

MMHS Theater and music events

The Mira Mesa High School Performing Arts Department invites the community to enjoy two fall plays and three winter concerts this year.

The main stage play this fall is Rumors, by Neil Simon, a comedy about party guests at a house party where everything goes wrong. Rumors (not intended for younger audiences), will be performed in the MMHS Theatre Nov. 30 at 7pm, Dec. 1 at 3:30pm, and Dec. 2 at 7pm. MMHS will also present the play, Talking With…, by Jane Martin, 11 monologs by women recounting their personal stories, which will be performed in the MMHS black box theatre. Talking With… (also not intended for younger audiences) will be presented Nov. 30 at 3:30pm, Dec. 1 at 7pm, and Dec. 2 at 3:30pm. Tickets for either show are $10 each, or you can see both plays on the same day for a total of $15. Tickets are available at the door or in advance online.

Coach Blevins to retire

By Don Norcross
From the San Diego Union-Tribune

Gary Blevins is stepping down as the head football coach at Mira Mesa High, ending his reign as the longest tenured San Diego County coach at one school.

Blevins coached at Mira Mesa the past 23 seasons, compiling a 145-117-4 record, making him the 19th winningest coach in San Diego Section history.

His Marauders advanced to six playoff semifinals and one championship game, losing to Vista 33-21 in the 2010 Division I championship.

"I stepped down because I have five grandchildren," said the 62-year-old Blevins. "My wife's closing in on retirement, too."

Blevins taught physical education for 38 years at Mira Mesa before retiring as a teacher last June.

"I loved Mira Mesa," Blevins said. "I loved the kids. I had a great time."

Blevins said there are four football assistants at Mira Mesa who will likely apply for the job. Another candidate figures to be longtime Mira Mesa assistant and former Bonita Vista head coach Chris Thompson.

"That's home right there," said Thompson, now a Helix assistant who played at Mira Mesa under the Marauders' first coach, Brad Griffith.

With Blevins stepping down, Cathedral Catholic's Sean Doyle now has the longest stint as head coach at one school. Doyle has been the head coach at Cathedral and University, its predecessor, for 22 years.

Later start time supports education

By John Lee Evans
Trustee, San Diego Unified School District

Early start times for high school go against the established research on teens' biological clocks. I have advocated for the school district to eventually set 8:30 a.m. as the earliest start time for our high school students. Currently most of the high schools start around 7:30 a.m.

Recently SB 328 mandating later start times for high schools was approved by the State Senate, but did not garner enough votes in the Assembly. It is now up to local districts.

Research has shown that the circadian rhythm of post-pubescent teens makes it difficult for them to fall asleep before 11:00 p.m. Sleep deprivation causes serious problems. Two out of three U.S. high school students are sleep deprived. Later start times can result in reduced tardiness and absences, as well as students performing better, especially in first period classes. A later start can improve driving safety, emotional and physical well being and academic achievement. Schools that end later are still able to participate in all athletic and other extracurricular activities.

Start Times, pg. 9

Sexual Assault

jeans at the time of the attack. The San Diego Police Department released the sketch at left of the assailant.

Investigators are reviewing other recent cases in the area to see if they might be connected.

The assaults are similar to those reported between September 2016, and February 2017 in the same area. That assailant reportedly struck at least five times between September 1, 2016 and January 24, 2017. Police suspect there were additional attacks that were not reported.

The previous attacks occurred on Mira Mesa Blvd near Greenford Dr., Hillery Dr. near Rickert Rd., and on Caminito Baywood in the Mesa Village condominium development. According to an unconfirmed report, a man matching the description of the suspect also attacked a woman on Caminito Baywood at approximately 7 pm on Friday, February 10. Witnesses report that the suspect fled the scene after the victim's screams attracted other residents.

The suspect in those assaults was described as a Hispanic male, 5'1" to 5'5" tall, average build, late 20's to late 30's, with a bushy mustache. The suspect spoke Spanish and English with a Spanish accent. During some of the earlier incidents the suspect was wearing a baseball cap with the logo "California Republic" which had a bear on the front. The police sketch of that suspect is at right.

For information related to the October case, San Diego Crime Stoppers offered a reward of up to $1,000 for information leading to an arrest.

Marijuana

I" is expressly for substances with "no known medical value." Having marijuana on Schedule I is thus ridiculous on its face. Medical literature before the development of opiates shows a long history of cannabis use as medicine. Opponents tend to insist that medicinal use be subject to clinical trials. But clinical trials are, be definition, unlawful for Schedule I substances without a special permit. The U.S. government recognizes only one source for growing cannabis to be used in scientific studies, and this source has shown an inability to provide the level of quality needed for research.

Removing marijuana from Schedule I will not 'legalize' marijuana; it will leave the matter to the states. Much of the regulations put in place here in California will be very difficult to implement as long as marijuana is on Schedule I. If marijuana is "de-scheduled," however, researchers will be free to do clinical trials.

But probably of greatest importance at the community level, removing marijuana from Schedule I will allow growers, distributors, and retailers - medical or recreational - to obtain proper banking services. Today we run the risk of seeing shoot-outs in our community because Schedule I forces even medial marijuana providers into an all-cash business.

Like so many problems, medical/recreational marijuana spans all levels of government. Leadership from our community means we must remain engaged at every level. At the federal level, we should advocate for the removal of marijuana from Schedule I. This will then free us to recognize the will of the voters, but also advocate for state and local regulations to vigorously protect young people from potential harm and our communities from violent crime attracted by what is today an all-cash business.

Start Time

Research has shown that later start times do not significantly affect students' bedtimes, so there is a gain in sleep time, thus later start times are supported by the American Medical Association, the American Academy of Pediatrics, the Centers for Disease Control and the National PTA.

On October 10 the Board approved a plan to begin the conversation. There are serious financial limitations on making this change due to bus routes and schedules. Any solution must be revenue neutral. Each cluster will have the opportunity to review the research. If the parents, students and staff come to a consensus on the need for a later start time, the high school and cluster can petition a later start time from the district, which would be implemented if/when it is determined that it is financially feasible.
