Don't Forget

MMTC Meeting September 9th
Second Monday due to Labor Day

President's Message
-Ted Brengel-

It seems like summer was over in a blink. Yes, I know, those without young ones in school would say, "wait a minute, summer has a few weeks left!" Well, maybe that's true, but fall activities are starting. My first clue is that Street Fair planning gets much more serious in September. Of course, that make sense since our Street Fair is scheduled for Saturday, October 5th —one week after the Miramar Airshow. So, get ready! This year's Street Fair will be better than ever. Lots going on in Mira Mesa these days. We are a growing community. As I write this, I am anticipating the August meeting of the Mira Mesa Community Planning Group (3rd Monday of each month at the Library) where the 3Roots project will be presented for approval. 3Roots is one of two projects planned for Carroll Canyon. It is essentially the redevelopment of what was once the Hansen Aggregates site. A total of 1,800 residential units are proposed, 185 of which are single family lots, 1006 are condominiums, and 609 are multi-family units. Affordable housing is contained within the multi-family facilities. Construction of the project will most likely begin within the next two years. My point in mentioning this is to emphasize that our community is growing, and that growth will entail changes.

One big change will be Phase Two of the park upgrade. This phase includes several major improvements, including a new recreation center. The first question that arises at this point is, what will happen to the Gil Johnson Recreation Center? The answer is, nothing. The funds used to update our park can only be used for improvements and may not be used for demolition, so the old rec center will remain. At the same time, there will be a space for a new rec center prepared in the 26-acre park that is part of the 3Roots Development I mentioned above. While the developer will not actually build a new recreation center, the City will have the space and infrastructure required to build one. (continued on p. 6)

The next Mira Mesa Town Council Meeting is scheduled for Monday, September 9th, highlighted agenda items include:

- City Councilmember Chris Cate speaking about NFC (Neighborhoods First Coalition) recommendations and City Council District 6 priorities for the current fiscal year.
- *Bob Partridge, Gold Star Families Memorial Monument Committee, speaking about the Gold Star Families Memorial Monument planned for Miramar National Cemetery.
- Metropolitan Transit System (MTS) will be presenting information regarding the Elevate SD 2020 initiative proposing enhanced public transportation throughout the city of San Diego

The Mira Mesa Town Council is a 501(c)(4) non-profit organized to foster the public welfare of the community. Meetings are held on the first Monday of every month at the Mira Mesa Library at 7pm. See page 12 for newsletter advertising rates and contact info.

3Roots Project Approved by Mira Mesa Community Planning Group

Jeff Stevens, Chair, Mira Mesa Community Planning Group

The 3Roots project, the first of two large projects in Carroll Canyon, was approved by the Mira Mesa Community Planning Group at the August 19, 2019 meeting, with some comments that we want the Planning Commission and City Council to consider. In general, this is a very good project. It is much improved over a previous project that was approved for this site in 1994. The new project removes a business park that was part of the old project, and adds a new 25 acre community park. This park will replace the park that was planned next to Challenger Middle School that could not be built because of vernal pools. Both the new and the old projects contain 1800 housing units, mostly multi-family housing, but the new project also includes some single-family housing. 10% of the units are reserved for low-income senior housing.

The project will build an important segment of Carroll Canyon Road that runs from west of Camino Santa Fe to the start of the existing road just west of Camino Ruiz, so this will complete the road segment from Camino Santa Fe to Camino Ruiz. This brings us to the first of our comments: the City needs to build the section of Carroll Canyon Road that runs though El Camino Memorial Park that will then complete Carroll Canyon Road from Interstate 805 to Camino Ruiz. This is a critical road segment to mitigate the traffic from the 3Roots project and take some of the existing traffic off Mira Mesa Blvd and Miramar Road. The project will generate enough money in FBA fees to pay for the road, but it is the City's responsibility to build it. The developer, Mesa Canyon Community Partners, offered to design the El Camino road segment at the same time as they designed their road segment, but the City rejected the offer. This is extremely short-sighted and could potentially delay that road segment by several years.

The only significant disagreement that the Planning Group had with the developer is on construction of an overlook at the south end of Parkdale. The Mira Mesa Community Plan shows a 5 acre park at this location, and the original plans were for the developer to restore the site as part of the reclamation plan for the site after the end of gravel mining. This park is an FBA project and the FBA was to purchase the site from the developer. As presented to the Planning Group in the early stages of review, the FBA money would be redirected to offset some of the costs of building the new community park, and the Parkdale Park would be reduced to 2 acres, which would minimize their reclamation costs by limiting the park to areas that had not been graded. Last November, the project was revised to remove the park entirely, because the resource agencies did not want a park that close to the adjacent fenced vernal pools. With some reluctance, the Planning Group accepted that, but asked for a small overlook to be built overlooking Carroll Canyon just south of the south end of Parkdale. The developer has designed a nice trailhead for the trail that will go from Parkdale to Carroll Canyon, but it falls short of the overlook we requested.

There are a couple of final issues that the Planning Group addressed in comments: The new park has a site for a Recreation Center, and Planning Group recommended that the recreation center that was originally to be built by Challenger and then relocated to Mira Mesa Community Park, be built in the new 3Roots community park instead. Finally, both this project and the larger Stone Creek project to the east were planned from the outset as transit oriented projects, including building transit stops and reserving the right of way for a future LRT (light rail transit) or BRT (bus rapid transit) line, however MTS neglected to include any rapid transit for these projects in their master plan, and so we asked that the City, MTS and the developer ensure that quality transit support is available for the residents of this project.

Thus, we find ourselves on the horns of a kind of pleasant dilemma. Do we opt for the planned new recreation center at Mira Mesa Park, or do we instead spend that money on a new recreation center at 3Roots Park? In order to have a say and follow this issue, you really need to attend monthly Recreation Advisory Group Meetings. Right now, it appears that there may well be a third option. Our City Councilman, Chris Cate, believes that there may be a way to build the new rec center as part of the main park expansion AND the one in the 3Roots Project. The Mira Mesa Recreation Advisory Group meets on the second Tuesday of each month at the Lopez Ridge Conference Room at 7:00 PM. Changing the subject, we have recently had a rash of property damage crime around Mira Mesa. To help address that MMTC recently sponsored a Public Safety Town Hall and Neighborhood Watch Meeting. This was primarily to address property damage in one neighborhood that involved broken windows, slashed tires, vehicle damage, and assault. I think the meeting was a success in that it seemed like everyone took away some information to help address that sort of situation. Here are a few things I learned that may help you:

- Nextdoor.com is a valuable tool for communicating with people living near you, but it has one serious limitation. Nextdoor.com does not allow any governmental agency, including the police, to view any of the comments that neighbors post. So, even if you post a long narrative of events the police will never see them.
- It is important to make police reports whenever you see or experience a criminal act. You can make these in person at any police substation, by telephone to either non-emergency number (619-531-2000 or 858-484-3154), or online at https://www.sandiego.gov/police/crimereports/startaccess. The non-emergency calls and online reports may be made anonymously. It is important to make reports for each event to give the police an accurate picture of the situation. Do not assume that someone else told them everything or that a single report can cover a series of events.
- Communication among neighbors is vital in preventing crime. While Nextdoor.com is a valuable tool in that regard, it can only supplement, not replace, Neighborhood Watch Programs. To start a program in your neighborhood, just call our Police Department Community Relations Officer, Christina Santos at (858) 538-8028 or email her at csantos@pd.sandiego.gov.
- Collect as much information as safety allows. Don't forget pictures, but never take risks that could lead to personal injury.
- If you see or hear something that doesn't seem right take action by making a police report, or if the situation is urgent dialing 9-1-1.

I think this is long enough. Have a fantastic September and get ready for the 21st Annual Mira Mesa Street Fair. And finally, remember that kids are more active on our streets now. Watch out! - Ted
