MMTC Meeting March 2nd

Mira Mesa Town Council Presents: Streets Forum

The need for road repairs in Mira Mesa is a well-known fact. But how does the process of street repair work in San Diego? How are the repairs budgeted? How are the streets selected for repair? Does reporting a pothole on the "Get It Done" app make a difference?

Join the Mira Mesa Town Council, and representatives from City administration, for a panel discussion with questions and answers at our March 2 meeting, 7 PM in the community room of the Mira Mesa Branch Library, 8405 New Salem St.

President's Message: Be The Change You Want To See In Mira Mesa

I smiled when I recently was invited to join the "Scripps Ranch Volunteer Group" Facebook page, as they rolled out their new program, "Got It Done Ourselves" (#gido). GIDO features a list of small repairs that are needed in Scripps Ranch, or volunteer opportunities for upcoming activities, and invites volunteers to "Get It Done Ourselves." Recent posts have included a request for a volunteer photographer to take pictures at an event, a need for someone to repair and refinish an old wooden park bench, and helping a Scout find volunteer hours for their merit badge.

This is the kind of community activism that I have seen work wonders in other neighborhoods, where volunteers just "did it themselves" on many small issues. Here in Mira Mesa, we at one time had a group of individuals dedicated to wiping out the graffiti that was popping up around the community. Graffiti on power boxes would be covered up, often with a heart-shaped design of gray paint. They stored gallons of a color lovingly referred to as "Mira Mesa beige" and would cover over graffiti on the many walls around our neighborhoods.

In looking around our community, there are still many opportunities to adopt this "DIY" approach to solving our issues. Our City is too large, as is our Council district, for our elected officials and government agencies to know (continued on p. 2)

The Mira Mesa Town Council is a 501(c)(4) non-profit organized to foster the public welfare of the community. Meetings are held on the first Monday of every month at the Mira Mesa Library at 7pm. See page 12 for newsletter advertising rates and contact info.

every need in every neighborhood. It is up to us to make certain that our needs are known, and that we know what resources are available to address the issues.

Where to start? There are many ways we can begin making a difference. Several opportunities that present themselves right now are: Neighborhood Watch, Community Pride (remember those guys with the paint?), Public Art, and Mira Mesa Liaisons.

A few months back, SDPD did a presentation on Neighborhood Watch at the Mira Mesa Library. However, Mira Mesa does not have a coordinated Neighborhood Watch committee as do some other communities in the area. I have spoken with the groups that organized these committees and believe that we in Mira Mesa would benefit from a similar committee.

The Mira Mesa Community Pride committee, those volunteers referenced earlier with the gray and "Mira Mesa beige" paint, are interested in reviving the committee. Their goals are not limited to painting out graffiti, but rather to bringing back some of the community clean-up programs that we once took for granted. Those include Mira Mesa "clean-up" days, where residents can drop off large items and materials such as oil that are considered hazardous and a certain area of the community is selected to be cleaned up and beautified. The last such event was over ten years ago—far too long!

Our new Public Art Committee is taking on the task of assisting our community artist, LeoAngelo Reyes, in growing and improving opportunities for public art in Mira Mesa. Not only will the committee be assisting LeoAngelo with the new rules regarding power box art, but it will be seeking out grants and donations to provide the selected artists with quality paint and supplies. The committee will also be seeking out other venues in Mira Mesa where public art can beautify our community.

Our Mira Mesa Liaison project is perhaps our most ambitious. We know that many issues in the community are reported on the City's "Get It Done" app. But how do we know what has been reported, and if the outcome of those reports has been successful? There are also those who can't or don't want to use the app, but want a problem addressed. Enter the Liaisons! These volunteers will review the "Get It Done" reports and follow up to see if they were resolved, or just "closed" as it sometimes appears to be handled. They can also take input from residents who see an issue but prefer to tell someone in Mira Mesa about it.

These are just a few of the many ways that we can make sure that Mira Mesa continues to be a community that we are all proud to call home. But it is going to take more than just the eleven volunteers who make up our board of directors, to achieve these ambitious goals. We will be looking to our community for volunteers willing to donate their time and energy to Mira Mesa. Even one hour a month can help build a better Mira Mesa! In the coming days, we will be reaching out with specific ideas and volunteer opportunities. But we also want to hear from you! Is there a project that you would like to see started in Mira Mesa? If so, the Mira Mesa Town Council would like to find a way to help you make it happen. I invite you to email me at President@MiraMesaTownCouncil.org with your ideas and suggestions.

Thank you, Mira Mesa!
Bari Vaz

MMHS Presents Spring Musical : Disney's "Freaky Friday" March 6 – 14

By Pam Stevens

The Mira Mesa High School Performing Arts Department is proud to present this year's spring production, the Disney musical, "Freaky Friday, A New Musical," March 6 – 14, 2020.

Many are likely familiar with the "Freaky Friday" storyline from the hit Disney movies. Here's the plot synopsis:

"When an overworked mother and her teenage daughter magically swap bodies, they have just one day to put things right again…By spending a day in each other's shoes, Katherine and Ellie come to appreciate one another's struggles, learn self-acceptance, and realize the immeasurable love and mutual respect that bond a mother and daughter." [Posted on web page for "Freaky Friday" tickets.]

Directed by Daniel Kriley, performances of "Freaky Friday" will take place in the Mira Mesa High Theatre, 10510 Marauder Way, San Diego CA 92126. Performances will be:

Friday, March 6, 7pm; Saturday, March 7 (Alumni Night), 6pm;

Thursday, March 12, 6pm; Friday, March 13, 7pm; and Saturday, March 14, 2pm and 7pm.

Tickets are on sale now! MMHS musicals tend to sell out ahead, so don't delay in choosing seats online and ordering tickets. For more information and/or to order tickets, see: www.miramesatheatre.org

County Supervisor Kristin Gaspar: Mental Health, Human Trafficking, and "The Other Side Academy"

Prioritizing Mental Health

San Diego County and Tri-City Medical Center marked a major milestone in the effort to find real solutions to our region's behavioral health problems. We reached an agreement to build a 16-bed facility that will provide psychiatric services in North County. But our work is not done. We must continue to build on the entire continuum of care, including prevention, early intervention, long-term care and recovery. I am incredibly pleased to see the progress we have made as a region to address the critical challenges to our Behavioral Health Continuum of Care in the 15 months since the Board Conference. When I called for that Board conference in 2018, I knew it was necessary to take a comprehensive in-depth look at the current system and its failures. It would require every stakeholder from across the County to come together and help fundamentally redesign our entire system of care from prevention and early intervention to crisis stabilization and acute in-patient services to long-term care and recovery. It has truly been through collaboration and innovation that we are developing a system of care that is person-centered, sustainable, and focuses on prevention rather than crisis.

San Diego's Growing Human Trafficking Problem

It is hard to believe that San Diego is home to a vile and thriving sex trafficking industry that rakes in nearly $1 billion dollars in revenue each year. The average age of children being lured is just 15. Recently I traveled to Washington, D.C. for the White House Summit on Human Trafficking in honor of the 20th anniversary of the Trafficking Victims Protection Act. It lays out a national framework for the federal response on human trafficking focusing on the 3 Ps - prevention, protection and prosecution. We must come together united across every level of government to address the challenges before us to protect our children from becoming exploited.

We know that dangerous online predators are luring and recruiting our children through the internet and through their mobile devices. They are exploiting children through online content and chat rooms. At the federal level, I am advocating for stronger intervention to help regulate these channels and allow for information sharing with law enforcement so they can deliver justice and protection. If it is a crime offline, it is a crime online! We must have a coordinated response that allows law enforcement to efficiently identify and protect victims, swiftly prosecute the predators, and ultimately eradicate the exploitation of children online. I am pleased to announce I brought forward, and the Board of Supervisors approved $100,000 in grant funding for Humans Against Trafficking to further develop their AI software that will help parents identify their child's online vulnerability. The app called "Radlee" will allow parents to analyze their child's social media profile to understand how vulnerable and attractive it would appear to a trafficking recruiter. The app can identify specific photos, comments, and suspicious followers that indicate higher risk. The free app will be available by the end of the month on the App Store.

The Other Side Academy

Finding innovative solutions for our most vulnerable populations has been the cornerstone of my work during my time as County Supervisor. I am currently working to bring a unique program to San Diego called "The Other Side Academy". TOSA will be modeled after a similar academy that I visited in Salt Lake City. The non-profit houses those criminal convictions, substance abuse issues and the homeless, helping them transform their lives. This comprehensive, therapeutic two-year residential program community is completely peer driven. There are no doctors, no therapists, no counselors. Residents live together and hold themselves accountable through vocational training, education, peer counseling, mentoring, leadership training and transitional services.

TOSA requires zero tax dollars and sustains itself with residents operating a thrift store and a moving business. In fact, the program has saved Utah taxpayers more than $22 million dollars in incarceration fees. The Academy is a place of hope and transformation. It's a home, a school, a place of business and proof that even the most broken people can change and become self-sufficient, productive members of society.

Congressman Scott Peters: Congressional Art Competition, "An Artistic Discovery "

San Diego High School students are invited to enter the Congressional Art Competition for a chance to have their artwork hang in the U.S. Capitol for one year.

The Congressional Art Competition, An Artistic Discovery, is open to all high school students in the 52nd Congressional District. The Competition began in 1982 to provide an opportunity for members of Congress to encourage and recognize the artistic talents of their young constituents. Since then, over 650,000 high school students have been involved with the nationwide competition.

As a former board member of the Museum of Contemporary Art San Diego and a leader in the Murals of La Jolla effort, I am excited about our seventh year of providing this amazing opportunity. It is a chance to celebrate and showcase the artistic talent and creativity of students in San Diego, Coronado, and Poway, and also encourage students to explore their creativity in a way that will foster a lifelong love of the arts.

I asked local leaders in San Diego's arts community to serve on the judging panel to select this year's winner - who will be invited to spend a day with me in Washington, D.C. This trip will celebrate the unveiling of the student artwork exhibition where his or her piece will be hung in our nation's Capitol for one year.

If you have any questions about the competition or submission guidelines, please contact my San Diego office at 858-455-5550.

2020 Art Competition

We are now accepting submissions for the 2020 Congressional Art Competition! We welcome any students who live or attend a school within California's 52nd Congressional district to submit their artwork.

The submission deadline for this year's Congressional Art Competition is April 16th, at 4:00 PM.

To enter, artwork must be brought with a completed release form to our District Office:

4350 Executive Drive, Suite 105
San Diego, CA 92121

Artwork may be dropped off by someone other than the student. Dimensions of artwork submissions may not exceed 26" x 26" x 4" if and when framed.
