MIRA MESA TOWN COUNCIL

April 2023 MMTC Meeting

SAN DIEGO STATE

In honor of SDSU's historic appearance in the NCAA Men's Championship Game, the Mira Mesa Town Council is postponing its Monday night meeting so that our members can enjoy the game.

GO AZTECS!

MMTC/Verne Goodwin Scholarship Application now online.

All graduating high school seniors who are Mira Mesa residents and have enjoyed participating in community volunteering are encouraged to apply for this year's college scholarship that MMTC awards annually based on community service. The Mira Mesa Town Council/Verne Goodwin Scholarship Fund will award three $1000 scholarships in June. The deadline for completed application packages is May 2, 2023. See https://www.miramesatowncouncil.org/scholarship/ for the application and for more information.

The Mira Mesa Town Council is a 501(c)(4) non-profit organized to foster the public welfare of the community. Meetings are held on the first Monday of every month at 7pm.

Taste of Mira Mesa

The Annual Taste of Mira Mesa is BACK and we are ready to fundraise for Mira Mesa High School in a fun way. This year's event will be held at Veloce Motors The Vault off of Miramar Rd on April 15, 2023.

There are several ways you can participate:

San Diego Miramar College News

Miramar College Receives M.E.S.A Grant

San Diego Miramar College received a 5-year M.E.S.A. grant from the state Chancellor's Office totaling $1.4 million for the creation of a Mathematics, Engineering, and Science Achievement program (MESA).

"The California Community College Mathematics, Engineering, Science Achievement (MESA) program is designed to help underserved and disproportionately impacted students majoring in the sciences achieve their goals, particularly in transfer-oriented programs," said Dr. Wesley P. Lundburg, president of San Diego Miramar College. "This is fantastic news, and a testament to our commitment to our students and our community!"

Summer Training Opportunities in STEM/Biotechnology at Miramar College

The Miramar College Biotechnology program is offering three FREE summer training and resume-building opportunities for science students this summer. Join our info session on Wednesday, April 5 during College Hour (12:30-1:30) to find out more about these programs.

Lights On!

A broken taillight can help repair police-community relationships. That's part of the premise behind a new program by the San Diego Police Department and other local police departments in our region.

The innovative "Lights On!" program will allow police officers to provide vouchers for vehicle repair rather than citations for vehicle deficiencies, thanks to support from Scripps Health and the Padres Foundation.

This program, which officially gets underway in a few weeks, provides vouchers covering up to $250 in vehicle damage for things like broken headlights, taillights, brake lights and turn signals.

The new program won't impede police officers from conducting traffic stops or perform their duty as law enforcement. Instead, it means people with financial struggles won't have to choose between paying a costly ticket or paying for groceries or rent.

Homelessness Update from the Mayor's office

This month Mayor Gloria participated in a press conference alongside Councilmember Whitburn to announce his support for Councilmember Whitburn's Unsafe Camping Ordinance which will be presented to City Council in April, as well as support for Councilmember Whitburn's Safe Sleeping proposal and an upcoming ballot measure on Homelessness.

The City has been using every tool and resource currently at its disposal to address and prevent homelessness through the creation of permanent housing opportunities, expanding street outreach, shelter capacity and safe parking programs, and implementing homelessness prevention programs and resources.

The Unsafe Camping Ordinance will make amendments and additions to the San Diego Municipal Code to protect the health and safety of all residents in the City of San Diego. This ordinance would prohibit unauthorized tent encampments on public property when shelter is available. Regardless of shelter availability, encampments are prohibited at locations considered to be high risk, such as:

- within two blocks of K-12 schools
- within two blocks of a shelter
- along trolly tracks and transportation hubs
- certain parks like Balboa Park, Presidio Park, Mission Bay Park and shoreline parks canyons and waterways like the San Diego river.

We ask that you share these proposals with your neighbors and share your support for this ordinance by contacting your City Councilmember and express your support at the City Council meeting as this ordinance goes through the legislative process. It is important to share your stories, experiences, and why your support this effort to protect public health and safety. We expect this ordinance will come to City Council next month and once we have a date for that meeting.

This ordinance is only one piece of addressing the homelessness crisis. In addition to proposed Unsafe Camping Ordinance, the Mayor announced he will be working with Councilmember Whitburn's office to identify a Safe Sleeping Program. While enforcement is necessary to protect public health and safety, it is important to provide a location for individuals to safely camp while they are being connected to supportive services, resources, and permanent housing options.

In addition, in 2024 we will be asking for the public's help and support to be able to build shelters more quickly and build on our efforts to address unsafe encampments. The intention behind Mayor Gloria's proposed ballot measure is to untie the City's hands and remove unnecessary red tape so we can respond with urgency on this matter.

I encourage you to watch the press conference here for more information about this proposed ordinance, and the other actions being taken: https://www.facebook.com/MayorToddGloria/videos/890739658800755/

Mini Garden

By Kaanchan S Farkiya,

There is something so satisfying about bringing new plants home and watching them! Spring is the best time to do this for many plants. You can grow a kitchen garden, indoor plants, or just some colorful flowers in spring! You can plan to have some plants according to the size of the available space. Vegetable gardens, are usually more functional and can range from a few feet to acres. Growing the best fruit trees with your care and planting some aromatic, and domestic plants will reward you with fresh crops at home.

Spring is the best time to enjoy growing flowers, fruits, and vegetables. Watching the growth of plants straight from the ground is also a good idea to educate your kids. If you have space for beds or a considerable space in your backyard when planning how to start a kitchen garden. If you have a small area or have no space a wide variety of plants can be grown in pots on even the smallest patio.

For example, planters and shelves can be attached to a wall, and you can easily double the growing space in a window box by hanging pots from it. All you need to start these projects, with some creative thinking and you can see many ways of growing your mini garden at home. It is also essential to understand the weather patterns according to the specific needs of the plant you want to grow because has a particular type of temperature and sunlight they prefer to grow their best. The fun of growing fruits, vegetables, and herbs will not only give you happiness but it will more sustainable for the environment.

Growing vegetables and doing some gardening chores not only offers a delicious crop but also positively affects your mental health. Spending time in greenery, mud, and soil can give you a reason to distract your mind from the stressful life. In addition, growing plants has also been medically proven to have a beneficial impact on your overall well-being.

(NOTE- If you are struggling with harmful thoughts, suicidal thoughts, or serious depression, don't be ashamed about it and please, please reach out for help. The Suicide Hotline is 1-800-273-8255.

It's not always obvious when someone is in pain. If you or someone you know may be thinking about suicide, it's time to talk. Call the San Diego County Access and Crisis Line at (888) 724-7240. You are not alone. https://up2sd.org/topics/suicide-prevention/)

Saving our Environment/Improving Community— Kent Lee

I'm happy to share that Spring is off to great start here in Mira Mesa. Early last month, I joined Mira Mesa Little League to kick off their 2023 Opening Day. Thank you to all the Little League parents and volunteers for creating this vibrant community for our youth, and I look forward to seeing through a fun and safe season for all the players. The following week, our office then also had the chance to volunteer for Meals on Wheels San Diego County, delivering meals to seniors here in Mira Mesa. It was a wonderful experience, and I highly recommend collaborating with Meals on Wheels for your next volunteering events. Additionally, for Women's History Month this past March, my office was honored to nominate Mira Mesa Town Council's very own Bari Vaz for the Mayor's Woman of Distinction. Thank you for all your do, Bari!

Our office is excited for April. Starting this month, the San Diego Single Use Plastic Reduction Ordinance takes effect and will reduce the number of plastics entering San Diego's environment and waterways, helping the City meet its zero-waste goals and its landmark 2022 Climate Action Plan. Speaking of the Climate Action Plan, the City's Sustainability & Mobility Department is collaborating with San Diego Public Libraries this month to host a series of interactive workshops. If you're interested in attending, please visit mysdpl.org/sustainablesd for dates and locations.

To continue the Spring festivities in April, the City's Recreation Department is also welcoming members of the public to special, themed events at recreation centers across the City. My kids are excited for these upcoming egg hunts, scavenger hunts, and Earth Day celebrations—to join us in celebrating, please visit to sandiego.gov/springfestival for the Spring Festival schedule.

At the City Council, we continue to advocate for capital improvements for our district, including advocating for Mira Mesa Community Park with state and federal officials as well as with Mayor Todd Gloria as he prepares the release of the Fiscal Year 2024 Budget this month. As Chair of the Active Transportation Committee, I am pleased to share that Mayor Gloria has also agreed to initiate a 2023 study on the condition of our streets; this data is critical to creating a sustainable and effective streets management plan. Lastly, my office is hosting a Community Forum with both the City Attorney and San Diego Police regarding the issue of unlawful car shows on April 12th at 5 PM at the Mira Mesa Library. We invite all residents and Mira Mesa Town Council members to attend—to RSVP or submit questions in advance, please email Dustin Nguyen at DVNguyen@sandiego.gov.

Thank you, and I look forward to seeing everyone around in the community. As always, if you have any concerns or something our office can help you with, please contact me at KentLee@sandiego.gov. For more updates like this, visit our social media or webpage at sandiego.gov/cd6.

City Needs to Complete FBA Projects

By Jeff Stevens

Chair, Mira Mesa Community Planning Group

Until recently Public Facilities in Mira Mesa were paid for through the Mira Mesa Facilities Benefit Assessment Program (FBA). Development Impact Fees are paid by developers at the time building permits are pulled. Fees vary depending on the type of development. In FY2021, FBA fees were $38,256 on a single-family home and $26,779 on a multi-family unit (apartment or condo). Public facilities such as parks, roads, library, and fire stations are prioritized and built as funds become available. Our library and fire stations and several parks were built through the FBA program. However, with the passage of the Parks Master Plan and the "Build Better SD" infrastructure plan, developer fees no longer stay in the community where development occurred and instead go into a central pot downtown with no guarantee that they will be available for planned infrastructure projects. This was done out of a misguided interpretation of equity in the allocation of developer fees. In the developing communities, all public facilities were built with developer fees and developers were charged a fee based on the estimated cost of all of the projects and the amount of development expected in the community. In this way public facilities could be built together with community development and the money to pay for them was relatively secure. Although this caused a delay in public facilities while enough money accumulated to pay for them, the program worked pretty well, and after 30 years, the newer communities had most of the public facilities planned for them. In the meantime, the City neglected the older communities and after 30 years their public facilities had deteriorated. The City decided that this was unfair. They could have then used the FBAs as a model for a successful infrastructure program and put a similar program in place for the older communities by, for example, using an infrastructure bond as the funding source. Instead, the City terminated the successful FBA programs and implemented these new centralized programs. Unlike the FBA, these new programs have no list of projects, no cost estimates, no income estimates and no financing plans. There will instead be a feeding frenzy each year as nine council districts divide up whatever developer fees have accumulated during the year. We now need to rely on our Councilmember and the Mayor to ensure that Mira Mesa gets its share of the funding. The new Mira Mesa Community Plan has an appendix that lists all of the projects identified in the Community Plan. Under the old method, this would have been the basis for a public facilities financing plan and an assessment of fees. We can at least use this as a list of projects that the City says should be built and request funding for them. The highest priority projects should be several important projects that were in the FBA and have not yet been completed. These are shown in the attached figure. There is probably enough money in the FBA account to complete the three most important park projects: Salk Park, Wangenheim Fields, and the aquatic center, skate park and other improvements at Mira Mesa Community Park. However, we will need additional City funds to build the recreation center at 3Roots Park (to be named Bruce Brown Memorial Community Park), and to build Canyon Hills Park on the hilltop south of Mercy Road. More difficult is the extension of Carroll Canyon Road west of Camino

Santa Fe. The City has done a feasibility study and cost estimate of this project and it will cost close to $50 million. That will require state or federal funding, so we need to make sure our state and federal representatives know the importance of this project.

Both the 1992 and 2022 versions of the Mira Mesa Community Plan and the FBA are still online at the City of San Diego web site:

Mira Mesa Recreation Council

The Mira Mesa Community Recreation Group (known as the recreation council in past years) meets on the second Tuesday of each month. Currently these meetings are held at the recreation center at Lopez Ridge Park. If anyone wishes to be involved they need to contact either Trena (tlbennettsandiego.gov) or Denise (dmlamb@sandiego.gov).

They will be added to the email chain and can then attend the meetings or send questions. Everyone is welcome as the more people involved the better results for our community.

You May Qualify for Thousands of Dollars in Benefits this Tax Season

Did you know that you may qualify for federal and state tax benefits that can make a huge difference to your household bottom line? The California Earned Income Tax Credit (CalEITC) offers support for low-income, working Californians, and you may be eligible for up to $3,417 cash back or a reduction of the tax you owe.

You don't have to spend a dime to find out if you qualify, because the state of California offers free tax assistance to low-income residents. You can learn how to qualify and apply here or by calling 2-1-1, where operators are prepared to help you with your questions and set up a free appointment to apply for the tax credits.
